

DAAC Resources for Psychology Website

The Psychology Department's Diversity Awareness and Affirmation Committee (DAAC) has compiled the following resources that represent a list of services and supports available to all students at the University of Florida.

Although it is not exhaustive of all resources available on campus, this list contains quick links to physical and mental health services as well as social opportunities! Many students do not know that even these resources are available to them, so the purpose of this list is to provide undergraduate, graduate, and prospective students with quick access and information to some important services and supports. We hope you take advantage of them as needed!
